CSU Golden Plains Extension –
Youth Agent JoLynn Midcap and Livestock Agent Chris Shelley said they were representing a request for Linda Langelo. They presented the idea of beautifying the fair grounds with an area designated for plants. One idea would be a four leaf clover out of living plants. This has been done at several fair grounds. A photo of a butterfly formed of different plant types was presented. This would give the grounds a better look. Master gardeners would care for the grounds. The board agreed it would be a neat project. Ongoing projects like this work for several years but individuals lose interest. The commissioners asked for more details on the project.

Midcap thanked the board for use of the recently purchased minivan. They will coordinate their schedule with Clerk Beverly Wenger.

Shelly said he is excited to be here as the livestock agent. He will be talking to the livestock producers for the next several months.

Sheriff Chad Day –
Sheriff Chad Day dropped in to introduce the new Undersheriff Adam Wills; who started this position on the first day of January.

As a follow-up to the property stolen from John Westerberg discussed at the last meeting, Day said it has been difficult to get information about what was taken from Westerberg. The storage cost with JR has been worked out; the fee will not be $15,000. Restitution was not part of the court’s decision for those sentenced.

Inmate Daryl Siefert has been moved to the State Mental Hospital, so his care is no longer the county’s obligation. A bill from the Sheriff’s Department with the City and County of Denver has been received $41,606 for his medical care while in Yuma County’s custody.

He served in the Navy for four years, then attended the police academy and upon completing the academy began employment with the Yuma Police Department. The last 15 months with the Yuma Police was spent overseeing the department. His goals, if elected, would be to provide better customer service and to work with the youth for children who seem to be afraid of cops. He has had budget experience, and understands the difference between a need and a want. Everyone needs to be on the same page.
